GREAT NATIONWIDE STRIKE OF TELEGRAPHERS VERY PROBABLE

American Expedition Leaving Archangel

PART OF FORCES EN ROUTE HOME: OTHERS ARE PREPARING TO FOLLOW SOON.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—An official announcement today by General March says that all of the original Archangel expedition will have sailed for home within two weeks. Companies E, G, I, M, and Machine Gun Company of the 339th infantry are now en route for Brest. Preparing to sail for home. ARCHANGEL, June 7.—According to revised arrangements all American forces, including engineers, will be withdrawn from the North Russian front and will be ready for sailing by the last of June. The second contingent of Americans to leave northern Russia is now assembling at Economia, the winter port of Archangel. This contingent expects to leave in about a week.

BERLIN SOVIET CALLS STRIKE

INDIGNATION EXPRESSED OVER EXECUTION OF BOLSHEVIST LEADER.

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, June 7.—The Greater Berlin Soviet dominated by radical proletarian elements has ordered a twenty-four hour general strike in protest against the execution of Munich Thursday of Levine Nissen, Bavarian Communist leader, who was convicted of being responsible for the civil warfare in Bavaria.

GEN. SIR HERBERT BELFIELD

Gen. Sir Herbert Eversley Belfield, K. C. B., director of prisoners of war for Great Britain since 1914, at the outbreak of the war. He served as chief staff officer of the British army in South Africa in 1899-1902, was commander of the Fourth infantry brigade from 1903-7, of the Fourth division from 1907-11, and was at one time colonel in the duke of Wellington's regiment.

NEW CASES IN DISTRICT COURT

J. J. Mason and the Queen Insurance company which he represents, has entered suit against the Katy railroad for $2,500 for cotton destroyed by the fire at Stonewall in the winter. It is claimed the fire was caused by negligence on the part of railroad employees. State vs. Felix Johnson for unlawful possession of liquors. State vs. Joe White unlawful possession. State vs. Mrs. M. K. Bartlett, selling intoxicating liquors. State vs. J. E. Cooper, selling, selling intoxication liquor; four counts against Cooper; this case has been transferred to Allen.

GERMAN WAR BOND VALUED AT ZERO

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 7.—The value of German bonds issued in 1914 has been fixed at zero by the office of William T. Rasmusen, inheritance tax appraiser for Marion County. The bond that brought action is the only one of its kind to come before the inheritance tax appraiser in Indianapolis. It is said, however, that quite an amount of German war bonds were sold in this vicinity before the United States entered the war. The appraisers say their present whereabouts is something of a mystery, although it is possible none of the bonds may have been held in estates coming before the appraisers. The bond appraised as of no value was of par value of $1,000. A number of estates, part of which were Anglo-French External Loan bonds, have been appraised. Such bonds have been valued at par, without objections from the heirs.

Mrs. D. J. Rogers received a message from her son, Dan Rogers, this morning stating that he has made a safe landing in New York.

PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL ORGANIZATION ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR TIEUP.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 7.—President S. J. Konenkamp of the Commercial Telegraph Union of America who is today en route to Chicago announced before his departure last night that he would call a nationwide strike of Union telegraphers upon his arrival in Chicago late today. The strike is proposed in support of the Western Union telegraphers who went on strike in ten Southern states Thursday night. Until he reached Chicago Konenkamp stated it would not be decided whether the strike would include other companies or be confined to the Western Union.

Strike Likely on Pacific Coast. SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—A strike of commercial telegraphers throughout the Pacific coast states is to be called June 11th unless demands made upon the employers are complied with according to a message received early today by Patrick O'Connor, president of the local organization of the C. T. U. A. The telegram was signed by L. I. Marshall of Los Angeles, first vice president of the organization. The announcement embraced the Western Union, Postal and Federal Companies on the coast.

One Strike Called Off. Atlanta, Ga., June 7.—Orders calling out telephone operators at Columbia and other North and South Carolina points at 10 o'clock today in connection with the strike of telephone and telegraph operators in Atlanta and elsewhere in the southeast have been rescinded according to announcement this morning by C. F. Mann, southern organizer for the C. T. U. A.

Strike at New Orleans. NEW ORLEANS, June 7.—Cable and linemen employed by the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company and Western Union members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers went on strike here today in sympathy with Western Union employees affiliated with the C. T. U. A.

NEW POSTAGE RATE EFFECTIVE JULY 1

Only three weeks remain now for the new postage rate to go into effect. After that date the rate of postage will be the same as before September 2, 1917. Instructions for inaugurating the new rate have been received complete by the local postal authorities. All letters will take the rate of 2 cents each, including letters to overseas soldiers, and local mail or what is known as "drop" letters will only require 1 cent. Letters addressed to parties on rural routes out of Ada will be the same as letters addressed to parties out of the county. Patrons are reminded that a letter mailed on the last day of June under the new rate will not be transmitted. The rate is effective July 1st.

AN EMPTY HOUSE CONTAINS "CHOC"

OFFICERS GLOM WHOLE BARREL OF OKLAHOMA'S FAVORITE BEVERAGE IN EMPTY HOUSE.

Chief of Police John Rawls, Policeman Wick Adair and Deputy Sheriff Whitson made a haul of a whole beer barrel full of choctaw beer at 331 West Sixth St., yesterday afternoon, the same being a vacant house. Some one who did not reveal his identity 'phoned Mr. Rawls that the beer could be found at this number, but it was not known by the police at that time that the house was vacant, which accounts for the officers going out in fore. For the past several days the manufacture of Oklahoma's favorite beverage seems to have been on the increase in these parts. Whether it is due to the increasing stringency of the prohibition laws or not is a question.

SEMINOLE INDIANS PLAY BALL GAME

A squad of Seminole Indians under management of L. C. Brown of Sasakwa, played a game of real Indian ball on the normal athletic field Friday afternoon. Mr. Brown was not able to get as many players as he wanted, but the nine who participated put plenty of life into the game and furnished an exhibition that was quite a novelty to most of the audience. Cheeparney Harjo and Josie Harjo chose sides and at the close of the game the first named was declared victor, his men working for the west goal and making a score of 10 as against 5 for the other.

The players were clad mostly in nature's garb, wearing only a breech cloth, leaving them unhampered in their movements. Most of them painted their faces and wore feathers in their hair. After a dance around the east goal the game started. Each player carried two sticks about two feet in length and having a sort of cup at one end. No player could touch the ball with his hands, being obliged to pick it up and throw it toward his goal by means of the two sticks. It was surprising how far one could hurl the ball when he had a free throw. However, it was part of the game to knock the ball from his sticks if possible and one player could tackle another by throwing his sticks around him. Occasionally the whole team would pounce on the ball and there would be a lively scramble to get it clear and into play again. The goals were like those of football games except that the upright posts were only about six feet apart. The ball had to be thrown through the goal posts or else touch one of them. Owing to the small number of players a great deal of running after the ball was necessary, but the Indians were good in that line. A fairly good crowd paid entrance fees, but fully as many more saw the game free, watching it from their autos parked along the street west of the ground. Mr. Brown is planning for a big match game between the Seminoles and Chickasaws about July 10 with a purse of $100 for the winners, if the county fair grounds can be secured for the occasion. He expects to secure at least twenty players to the side. These inter-tribal games are pronounced highly exciting by the old timers who have seen them.

Recital. Prof. G. C. Morris will give a lecture-demonstration-recital in the parlors of the First Methodist church Tuesday morning at 10:00 o'clock. His methods in presenting time, rhythm, metre, dictation, transposition and harmonization will be illustrated by some of his piano pupils. Variety in the program will be effected by pupils of Mrs. Morris in violin and expression. Everybody welcome. 6-6-it

Work on Replies to Counter Proposals

BRIGADIER GENERAL BUCK

Brigadier General Buck, commander of a brigade of United States troops in France, who was recently awarded by General Pershing the Distinguished Service Cross, the highest honor that can be bestowed by the American army. At great personal risk General Buck led his men over the top toward Berzy-le-Sar, a strongly fortified village south of Soissons, which they captured after strenuous and terrific fighting.

TREATY TEXT NOT GIVEN OUT YET

AMERICAN DELEGATION WILL NOT MAKE IT PUBLIC UNTIL SIGNED.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, June 7.—The American delegation to the peace conference apparently continues firm in its decision not to authorize the publication of the German peace treaty until it is signed and not even to communicate the official text of the treaty in its present form to the United States senate.

NOTICE TO READERS! We are doing all in our power to correct whatever may be bad in our delivery service, at the same time it is a problem that turns the hair gray on the head of nearly every publisher of daily newspapers. We believe that we have, in the main, the best boys we can get, at the same time they are just boys and cannot avoid mistakes at times. Another thing is, the city of Ada is in the backwoods class in the matter of the numbering of houses. We wish it were possible for every patron of the News to place his house number in a conspicuous place so that it might be easily seen. In the meantime we are doing the very best we can and wish to add that we want you to notify the office when you fail to get your paper, as we can only correct these mistakes by having your co-operation.

MASONS, NOTICE. The regular meeting night of Ada Lodge No. 119, A. F. & A. M., having been changed at the last communication, the lodge will meet Monday night, June 9, instead of tonight. There is business of importance and every member is urged to attend.—Miles C. Grigsby, W. M.

FINAL ANSWERS EXPECTED TO BE READY FOR DELIVERY TO DELEGATES BY MONDAY.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, June 7.—Virtually all important commissions connected with the peace conference were in session today. This activity was due to directions issued yesterday by conference leaders that the work of the body be speeded up as far as possible. The council of four met this morning and continued consideration of the German counter-proposals. The commissions which held sessions included those on ports and waterways, Belgium, responsibilities, and Alsace-Lorraine. All replies to the German counter proposals are expected to be ready for delivery Monday.

5000 MEN OF 90TH ARRIVE

OKLAHOMANS AND TEXANS WILL SOON BE AT HOME ONCE MORE.

By the Associated Press. NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 7.—Over five thousand men of the 90th Division, Oklahoma and Texas troops, arrived today on the transports Huron and Wilhelmina. The entire 359th infantry was on the two vessels.

The Guaranty Bank. We desire to call the attention of our readers to the half page advertisement of the Guaranty State Bank in this issue of the News. While this is one of the younger banking institutions of the city, and has recently undergone reorganization, it is one that is destined to grow in strength from day to day and is already looked upon as one of the sound and progressive banking institutions of this part of the state. Able and progressive business men of wide experience are at the head of the institution, and the fact that they have joined the ever growing throng of bankers who believe in newspaper advertising is the best indication in the mind of the business public that they are on the road to still greater success and stability. Here's our hand to the Guaranty State, may its shadow lengthen.

PAVEMENT PICKUPS Let a Want Ad get it for you. Floyd Haynes came in this afternoon from the university at Norman for a week-end visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Haynes. Walter O'Neal, a former resident of Ada, who is now traveling with the Tension Brothers Saddle Co., Dallas, is spending the week-end here. Our old friend T. V. B. Mullinax was in the office this afternoon on his way to Konawa, where he expects to assist in an ordination service of deacons tomorrow. Mr. Alfred Helmer of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the guest of Miss Lila McKindree. Mr. Helmer was with the Rainbow Division of the United States Army and has just recently received his discharge. The Delphian Society will meet Tuesday afternoon, June 10th, in the parlor of the Methodist church, promptly at 3 o'clock. Every member urged to be present. Important business to be transacted. Meeting adjourns at 4:15. Leaders for the session will be Mrs. Boran and Miss Kate Barly, respectively. MRS. HARMON EBEY, Sec. MRS. C. M. BARTON, Acting Pres.

BUDAPEST UNDER REIGN OF TERROR

BOLSHEVIK RULE BRINGS VIOLENCE, FEAR AND HUNGER TO THE POPULATION.

BUDAPEST, May 7. (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—What may be the last days of the "Red" Soviet republic here are fraught with such terror, hunger, mental misery, uprootings of family ties, heart-breaking partings, flights, arrests and legal lootings that the majority of Hungarians are praying that such days may never come again. They live like people caught in a burning house with the firement squirting benzine on the only escape ladder.

One way out may possibly be provided by the Czech and Rumanian armies, who, though national enemies of the Maygars, are now hailed as saviors. The atmosphere is charged with fears and alarms worse than those felt on any battle front. A contagious fear like that which prevails when an army is in rout is spreading even to foreigners whose persons are comparatively safe from arrest owing to the wishes of Bela Kun, the communist leader, and other ministers to save themselves from the gallows when the grand collapse comes.

When fathers and sons flee the country to evade arrest or to join the counter-revolutionists, their wives and mothers whisper at the parting: "Let us hope we may meet in happier times."

When the correspondent of The Associated Press has had occasion to explain his nationality the listener, whether Red guard, peasant, or civilian, has remarked with envy: "What a fortunate man you are, to be an American!"

He would invariably ask whether it would be possible to reach America and whether foreigners, former enemies, would be permitted to land on her shores. Peasants, who refuse to furnish food to Budapest or other cities because they are hostile to communism and want shoes and clothes more than paper money, of which they have plenty, gladly enough sold meals and supplies to the correspondent on the strength of his American nationality.

The city of Budapest which a few weeks ago had a plentiful supply of eggs—people almost lived upon them and potatoes—is now without eggs, because of the obstinacy of the peasants. A great many of the stores have been closed for lack of goods to sell, or because they have been requisitioned by the Soviet.

The most saddening impression the visitor receives is that of a country in dissolution, being stripped day by day, mercilessly and inexorably, of its riches, to benefit nobody. The relatively pleasant, orderly and bountiful life that existed in Hungary a few months ago, when its neighbor Austria was starving, is gone for many years to come.

"If anyone wants to be convinced of the futility of re-making the world in a single day with pet theories, he should now visit Hungary," was the remark made by an American naval officer. It is estimated that half a million of Hungary's best citizens have been obliged to flee from their homes and wander across the frontiers to strange lands.

There are many stories of their attempts to save their lives and property, some of which read like Arabian Nights tales. It is calculated that some 3,000,000,000 kronen worth of bonds, gold coin, jewelry, plate, paintings and work of art have been saved from the clutches of the Red guards and smuggled across the frontier by blockade runners, afoot, on bicycles, autos or peasant carts. Within a few weeks, there has grown percentages of the value of such property, often amounting to 50 per cent, have been given for its safe transportation to Vienna or Agram. Not a few communists took advantage of such methods of getting valuables out of the country. Many jewelers, however, stored their stocks under sidewalks or hid them in holes dug in their cellars in preference to trusting them to blockade runners.

WONDERFUL RECORD OF BRITISH AIR FIGHTER

LONDON, May 6. (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The late Major E. W. Mannock was the leading "ace" of the British aviation corps but it was not until months after the armistice that the fact was known and he never will be officially credited by the Air Ministry with being England's premier flyer. It was the policy of the ministry during the war not to proclaim individual exploits and it has not been changed since fighting ensued.

The record on Mannock's eighteen months service is most unusual. He started by outwitting examining physicians in concealing the fact that he was blind in one eye. At 29 years of age he was older than most of the pilots in training but he seemed to lack nothing required of a successful air fighter and soon qualified and went to France.

Immediately he adopted tactics peculiar to himself and it finally was a deviation from those tactics that brought him down. He always flew very high and enticed his adversary into a high fight but, in bringing down his seventy-third German he chased his falling foe too near the ground and a bullet from an anti-aircraft gun ended his career.

Officers of the Royal Air Force have acclaimed him the greatest air tactician in the service. He had none of the eccentricities prevalent among successful French aviators but he was scientific, persistent and dogged. One of his brother officers recently said that he had seen Mannock stalk a Hun for an hour or more, attempting to gradually draw him higher and then, when the slightest opportunity for advantage presented itself, he was on the foe like a cat. Although Mannock was presented with the Distinguished Service Order and the Military Cross it was not until the thousands of records of pilots were checked in the Air Ministry here that it was known that he had more Germans to his credit than any other British aviator. This fact was allowed to become known at the ministry, but not officially.

HUN CAPITOL MAY BE MOVED FROM BERLIN

BERLIN, May 15.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—A huge meeting was held here the other day to protest against the efforts to strip Berlin of its status as a capital. Mayor Wermuth and several others painted Berlin as a world city of art, a city for visitors and a city of the future. Despite its present smutiness, crime and disorder, they said Berlin will regain its reputation as the cleanest, safest and best governed city in the world. Wermuth said that further disturbances would bring agony, and urged all to work to improve conditions.

Sydicus Willner admitted that Berlin never was popular, especially in Germany and that "Berlin is considered a black sheep among German cities." He explained that its position necessitated the presence of good, bad and indifferent. Dr. Max Osborn declared that imperial Berlin had clogged itself with lonely buildings and senseless monuments. "The real Berlin is hidden behind these pretentious characterless things but now there is no barrier to recreating it as a city of art without parallel," he declared.

BRITISH COTTON MILLS RESUME ACTIVITY

LONDON, June 7.—(After having kept their mills idle since April 10, most of the Lancashire spinners of American cotton resumed activity on April 28. The 100,000 operatives affected are now back at work.

Nothing, says the American Chamber of Commerce in London, has brightened the outlook in Lancashire so much as the government's recent removal of the quantitative restrictions on exports to the European neutrals and the abolition of the black lists of those countries.

Holland, for instance, was in peace time, second only to Germany as Lancashire's best yarn customer, and it is now expected that millions of dollars worth of Lancashire piece goods and yarns will be absorbed by the Dutch, Danish, Norwegian, Swedish and Swiss markets.

Considerable yarn contracted for long ago and at much lower prices has been held up by the restrictions. The American Chamber in London understands that to cover such cases the Dutch weavers and the English spinners have recently come to an agreement that an increase of from 1d. (2 cents) to 3d. (6 cents) per pound over contract prices shall be paid to the spinner when the yarn is shipped.

DRILLING FOR OIL NORTH OF TISHOMINGO

Tishomingo Capital-Democrat. Work on the oil well north of town is progressing nicely. We are informed that they are drilling in blue limestone and that indications were never better for oil. As the people grilling this well are all Houston, Tex. people and for the further fact that they have nothing to sell it is next to impossible to get any information as to the depth they have gone. The outlay expended here for rigs, pipe, leases and labor has passed the -100,000 mark and they evidently know their business. The manager, Mr. McGaugh, is confident of bringing in a good well, but what's troubling us is, he doesn't say when.

THE TOWN GOSSIP

By MILTON LESTER

THERE'S AN old saying

THAT THE fellow.

WHO LAUGHS last.

ALWAYS LAUGHS best.

AND I reckon.

THAT IT'S perfectly true.

AND YESTERDAY afternoon.

I HAPPENED to be walking.

ALONG 12TH Street.

AND I saw a couple of kids.

ABOUT SEVEN or eight years old

PLAYING ON the sidewalk.

AND I could see.

THAT SOMETHING was wrong.

AND IT seemed.

THAT ONE of the boys.

WAS TEASING the other fellow.

AND THE other fellow.

DIDN'T LIKE it at all.

BUT JUST the same.

HE DIDN'T say much.

AND AFTER a while.

THE ONE that was teasing.

REACHED AROUND.

BEHIND THE other boy.

AND GOT a handful of dirt.

AND DROPPED it.

DOWN THE collar.

OF HIS waist.

AND IT ran down his back.

AND THE poor kid.

BEGAN TO cry.

AND I didn't blame him.

IT MUST have felt awful.

AND THE other chap.

DANCED AROUND.

AND MADE fun of him.

AND SEEMED to be having.

A GLORIOUS time.

AND DIRECTLY.

A DOOR opened.

AND A lady came out.

AND IN her hand.

WAS A little switch.

AND SHE made for the boy.

WHO WAS dancing.

AND GRABBED him.

AND SWITCHED him.

GOOD AND proper.

AND THE little fellow.

HOLLERED AND screamed.

AND SHE took him.

INTO THE house.

AND THE other one.

WHO HAD been sitting there.

WATCHING THE performance.

KIND OF dried his eyes.

AND BEGAN to look.

A LITTLE more cheerful.

AND HE got up.

AND WALKED off.

WITH A smile on his face.

A MILE wide.

I THANK you.

C. H. BARNES RESIGNS.

The following article was taken from last week's issue of the Glasgow Missourian, published at Glasgow, Mo. Accompanying the article was a picture of Mr. Barnes, but this we are unable to get. Mr. Barnes has purchased a home on South Townsend and Sixteenth and is taking his place as one of the leading citizens of he city.

C. H. Barnes, who for 20 years past has held the position of manager for the Glasgow Milling company, has tendered his resignation and expects to leave Glasgow with his family about June 15. He goes to Ada, Oklahoma, where he will take over the management of a large mill owned by the Shawnee Milling company, a corporation owning altogether twelve different flour mills.

When Mr. Barnes came here from Salisbury 20 years ago the Glasgow Milling company was classed as an excellent mill, but doing an almost purely local business. Under the wise, efficient management of Mr. Barnes, the business of the company quickly took on new life, and has grown steadily until today it ranks with the best mills of its class in the state, and its product is eagerly sought by dealers in half a dozen states, reaching as far south as Birmingham, Ala. The quality of flour made by the mill is unsurpassed in the West, and the demand for its products is frequently in excess of its capacity.

Since Mr. Barnes assumed its management the mill has added largely to its holdings, and inaugurated a system of elevators of sufficient capacity to care for the rapidly increasing supply of wheat grown in this vicinity. First, a series of big steel tanks were built, and later a fine large elevator was erected. Then the elevators at West Glasgow, Slater and Armstrong were acquired. All of these and many other improvements and additions to the mill itself were made at the instance, and through the energy and foresight of Mr. Barnes, and to him is due credit for the building up of this, one of the finest and most prosperous milling and elevator businesses in the state. With such a record of business achievements, it is not strange that Mr. Barnes' managerial ability should be widely known.

In the social and business life of the community Mr. Barnes has occupied a no less important place, having served long and capably as a member of the public school board, the Pritchett College board, and in the city council and as mayor, and has been a leading spirit in church work, in secret societies and in all movements of a civic character, as well as taking an active part in political affairs. That this community will miss him, all will agree, and he and his family will take with them the earnest good wishes of practically the whole community.

Howard County has not better citizen than Mr. C. H. Barnes and it is not only a great loss to Glasgow, but to the entire county to have Mr. Barnes leave the county.

DURANT MEN BUY A MADILL NEWSPAPER

A deal was closed last week in which W. C. Floyd of Durant and Hiram Impson of Bokchito became the owners of the Madill Record of Madill, Marshall County, the leading newspaper of Marshall county, and the new owners are issuing the paper this week under the editorship of Mr. Impson and the business management of Mr. Floyd.

The former editor and chief owner Grady Webster, is getting out of the newspaper business to devote his time to the oil business, we are told.

Mr. Floyd has for about six or more years been associated with the Weekly News, first as advertising man, later as circulation manager. During these years he has formed a large circle of friends here and has, incidentally been an invaluable aid in the growth of the News to its present size.

Mr. Impson is a Bokchito product, and is well known. He attended the State University's School of Journalism, and has had some practical experience in the work.

Both these young men are deserving and ambitious, and will give Madill a creditable newspaper.—Durant News.

Glad to see you at "The Home-Like Church," the First Methodist. Good music, delightful fellowship, live bunch to give you the "Glad Hand," and there's always a come back.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By Mary Graham Bonner

MR. MOON'S ADMIRERS.

"You do look so handsome these nights," said one of the stars.

"Thank you," said Mr. Moon, grinning. "I don't know that I would call myself a handsome fellow, but I would call myself a jolly old fellow."

"We would call you handsome," said another star. "In fact we do call you handsome," said a third star.

"You look so beautiful in that full dress suit of yours," said a fourth star. "Seems to me it is more becoming to you than any of your other suits."

"Ha, ha, ha," said Mr. Moon, "I am glad you like it. I wear it every month you know. I have only a few suits, but I keep on wearing them year after year, and as I have heard no complaints I suppose I will always wear them."

"You'll never hear any complaints from us," said the stars together. "You see," said Mr. Moon, "I have a wardrobe back of the clouds."

"What?" exclaimed the stars.

"A wardrobe," said Mr. Moon.

"Tell us what that is," said the stars. "We never heard of it before. Is it alive? Is it a creature? Is it a cloud? What is it?"

"Well, that is a great joke," said Mr. Moon. "You don't know what a wardrobe is? Well, I'll have to tell you. And now that I come to think about it, it is really not in the least surprising that you do not know about a wardrobe."

"You always wear the same little costumes. They're so lovely that no one would ever want to see any change."

"They're quite perfect—the costumes of the stars—and I do believe that if ever the stars came out dressed in something else, long trailing skirts and feathered hats for example, it would make folks most unhappy, most."

"To think of us wearing trailing skirts and feathered hats," laughed the stars.

"From what you have said, though," one little star added, "I think that a wardrobe has something to do with clothes. Perhaps a wardrobe makes the robes. Eh?"

"That's a good guess," said Mr. Moon, "but it isn't the right one."

"Tell us, then," said the stars.

"My wardrobe, or any one's wardrobe, is where clothes are kept. I have a wardrobe back of the clouds, high up in the sky. It's a beautiful gray wardrobe, very handsome."

"People have wardrobes made of wood, but that is all right for people. The cloud workmen and the sky workmen have no wood to gather. There are no trees in the sky so they can pull down trees and make furniture. "My wardrobe is made of clouds, as the wardrobe of the moon should be made."

"And in my wardrobe hanging up on tiny clouds, instead of nails like people use, are my different suits."

"There is my suit I wear when I am a half moon, and there is my suit I wear when I am a crescent moon, there is my suit I wear when I am a three-quarter sized moon. All my suits are there."

"And I have a few colored suits when I wish to look gay—red and orange suits. Those are my suits for the fancy dress balls which we give in the sky."

"Ah, Mr. Moon," said one of the stars, "we are so glad to hear about your wardrobe, and each time we see you we like the suit you have on at the time best."

"That is so," said all the stars.

"Well, to tell the truth," said one of the stars, "we come out with you so many, many nights, just to admire you. We're your admirers. We are with you in the sky, admiring you and thinking you're the finest old moon that ever lived."

"Well," said Mr. Moon chuckling, "it wouldn't be hard to be the finest moon, because I'm the only moon, so no other could get ahead of me."

"Now Mr. Moon, you know we didn't mean it that way, for we are your real admirers, we are!"

And Mr. Moon smiled and said, "I know it, my true, loyal little Star friends!"

BUILDING UP OUR WOMANHOOD

Given Up to Die by Her Friends, a Young Lady Recovers Her Health and Increases Weight—45 Pounds.

A Powerful Nation Needs Strong Healthy Women.

A nation is no stronger than its women. Hence, it is the duty of every woman, whether young, middle age, or in advanced life, to preserve her health. If you are sick and suffering don't wait until tomorrow but seek relief at once—today. Tomorrow your illness may take a chronic turn.

There is a remedy for almost every ill. Thousands have found Peruna to be that remedy as did Miss Clara Lohr of 21 N. Gold St., Grand Rapids, Michigan. She writes a friend: "I don't need Peruna any more. I am all well after taking six bottles. I weighed ninety pounds before I started and was poor and weakly. I had such a cough and spitting all the time that I never expected to recover. My friends gave me up. I could eat nothing. Now I can eat and weigh 135 pounds. I most thankfully recommend Peruna to my friends."

Miss Lohr's letter is an inspiration, a message of hope to suffering women. It tells you that you too may be strong and well and vigorous.

Peruna may be had in either liquid or tablet form. Ask your dealer. If you value health, do not accept a substitute. Dr. Hartman's World Famous Peruna Tonic is what you want. The Peruna Company, Dept. 79, Columbus, Ohio, also publish Dr. Hartman's Health Book. The book is free. Write for it. Your dealer will give you a Peruna Almanac.

ARTILLERY USED IN FORWARDING ORDERS

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 6.—A hollow three-inch shell, fused to emit on striking a gas of smoke-like density by day, and luminous at night, and used to transmit messages from division headquarters, to advanced or exposed positions, is another war-time secret which has now been made public.

This form of communication was first used by the Germans, and afterward adopted by the Allies. A sample of the shell—one that was captured from the enemy during the St. Miriel drive—was brought home by Vice-Admiral Gleaves on his return from France.

According to Admiral Gleaves, the shell has a range of about 2,000 yards and is self-propelling. Its velocity was such as to require 14 seconds to travel that distance, "slow enough," the admiral said, to enable an active man to dodge it, should he see or hear it coming. When it struck, it could be readily located by its smoke cloud by day, or its light by night, picked up, a cap unscrewed and the message inside delivered to the officer for whom it was intended.

The Dream of The World

By MEREDITH NICHOLSON

THE search for happiness is man's eternal quest. In all times, happiness has been the aspiration, the hope, the dream, of the world. The history of civilization is the story of man's changing ideals and standards of felicity, his groping from crude beginnings toward a more perfect realization of the liberty and security, the peace and opportunity that are essential to a happy life.

Years ago, I wakened one morning in a French inn to the song of a lad singing in the courtyard. I never heard his childish treble again, but, to this hour, any thought of France stirs in me the memory of that child singing his heart out for joy of the spring. In a strange town I look for happy faces, for they are a more trustworthy guide to the character of a place than the statistics of Chambers of Commerce.

Often as I rode with James Whitcomb Riley through the region he loved best of all, he would rouse from a long reverie and lay his hand on my knee and say, very gently, "What a fine world this is, and what a lot of good people are making it better all the time!"

We are reckoning the gains and losses of the greatest of wars, but the true test of the outcome may be applied in the simplest phrases: Is the world kinder? Is it more just and merciful? Is it a happier world than it was before?

Despair wins no battles, either among nations or in the individual soul. By believing that the world is a better world today than it was yesterday, we do much to make it so. Since roses last reddened on the wall, we of America have suffered much and learned much. We have shown ourselves slow to smite but quick to save. We stand four-square to every wind that blows, a people of cheerful yesterdays and confident tomorrows. Love, not hate, is the burden of America's song.

Only those things that make for happiness—in your heart and my heart and in the heart of nations—are of the kingdom of things that are eternal.

are morning on the scheme, according to Colonel Behn, and the laying of the cable will be commenced this summer.

The submarine telephone from Cuba to Key West, according to Colonel Behn, is but the first leg of a cable telephone system which in time will connect all of Greater Antilles.

"The development of the telephone during the war has made it possible for us to plan now for a submarine telephone cable system which three years ago was not dreamed of," said Colonel Behn. "The first leg of the system from Key West to Havana in itself will be the longest submarine telephone in the world. At present the submarine telephone across the English Channel is the longest."

Mr. Behn was president of the Cuban Telephone company when the United States entered the war. He volunteered and was commissioned a captain in the army signal corps. He is connected with banking interests in Cuba.

BABY WEEK FOR OKLAHOMA PLANNED

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 7.—(Special.)—The biggest baby welfare campaign ever attempted in this state, will be put on this summer by the Oklahoma Tuberculosis Association, according to an announcement made here today by Jules Schevitz, general secretary of the association.

Sporadic attempts have been made before by health organizations to do something in the way of stopping preventable deaths of infants but they never have been carried through on strictly efficient standards.

Three nurses, especially trained for the work, will work in nine counties of the state in which there are not now health nurses. Each nurse will be one month in a county, beginning July 1st and ending October 1st.

Edith Ewaine, field secretary of the association, will spend the month of June in preparing the campaign.

"In 1919, the state of Wisconsin, with a population about that of Oklahoma," said Schevitz, "had a death list of more than 5,000 babies under one year old. It is safe to presume that Oklahoma's total is as bad. Figures prove that most of these deaths are preventable. A change in the Oklahoma status of infant-care is our ambition. Education of mothers will be the principal medium by which

Who Gets the Girl?

MARY is a good looking girl, happy, care-free and full of life. A girl who likes chocolates, bon bons and flowers, as well as music, dancing and pretty clothes. She likes to go places.

And Mary is just the kind of a girl that will make some man an ideal wife because with her loving heart she also has a head. She knows what she wants. She knows what a husband ought to be. From him she will expect support, protection, and provision, as well as love.

Consequently, the man who wins Mary will be the man with money in the bank. Not because she thinks more of money than manhood; far from it. But because she knows that money in the bank, that a fellow puts there out of his earnings, conclusively shows his ability to manage, and is a sure proof of his dependable character and manhood. That money says: "Here is a man that you can trust with your future; he is a business man and will prosper, and when opportunity comes, he will have the necessary funds with which to take advantage of it."

That is the man for Mary. It is the kind of a man that every wise girl will pick out for a husband. For married life isn't all ice cream sodas and bon bons—there is a home to look for, with furniture; and the young fellow who wants to marry but has lacked the saving habit is doomed to be a poor provider.

Young man, are you prepared to be the husband of the girl you love?

A USEFUL LIFE.

The Greeks have a story of a contest for a high position between two exceedingly well qualified men. Zeus sent one of the gods from Olympus to decide the case. Each man presented his claims in the most convincing manner but before judgment was passed the judge noticed an old man bowed under the weight of years, who was taking great interest in the proceedings.

"Who are you?" inquired the judge.
"These men were pupils of mine in their youth and I came to congratulate the victor and console the loser," replied the old man.

The former pupils then united in acclaiming him as the one to whom the honor rightly belonged and to him it was awarded.

There is in Ada a teacher just retiring from active work who is in a better position than most men to fully appreciate the full force of this story. He is Capt. W. L. Roddie who for more than fifty years has labored in the teaching profession, thousand of young people of two or three generations passing under his influence and in him the successful ones find a friend who rejoices with them and the losers a comforters.

Although the teacher often does even more than the parent in shaping the destinies of the child, it is too often the case that the importance of his work is overlooked. The impressions made on the plastic mind of the pupil remain with him forever and although the teacher receives little in the way of material reward, the realization of his power for good and of what he has done for his pupil is a reward in itself far greater than riches which he might have accumulated had he put forth the same effort to acquire worldly possessions.

It is seldom that a man remains in the teaching profession as long as Capt. Roddie has and if a list of real benefactors of the South is prepared, he will certainly be entitled to a high place as one who performed a great service none the less important because it was unostentatious and devoid of spectacular features. The same will apply to all conscientious teachers, but to a less degree because of the difference in the time of service.

AT THE END OF THEIR STRING.

Four propositions will be before this Congress which mean much to the west, namely:

Workable waterpower legislation, an oil land leasing bill, road and public land measures.

Particularly is the west interested in oil and water-power development.

Self-seeking politicians have defeated passage of these measures for years at the expense of western states but it looks as if they had about reached the end of their string.

Congress already has these two measures on the way and speedy action is promised.

THE STRIKELESS COMMONWEALTH.

Universal voluntary mediation between employers and employees is the great movement that has come out of the Seattle strike. A campaign has been started to inaugurate the strikeless era headed by labor leaders, labor officials and representatives of employers.

The movement depends for its success on intelligent interest of the great mass of the people inside of labor organizations and outside of them, realizing that educated public sentiment must precede abandonment of wornout industrial machinery.

The reaction from the attempt to call a general strike at Seattle to be extended over all the industries of the west resulted in conservative labor leaders and labor unions voting to go back to work, voting down the general strike proposition almost unanimously.

At Portland, Oregon, the great shipbuilding center of the Columbia basin, a committee of two representatives of the Federated Trades, two state labor officials and a representative of the Loyal League of Loggers and Lumbermen which has 90,000 members, has been formed.

Several western states enacted laws providing for state arbitration and conciliation, but the new movement cuts out all reliance on political machinery as tending to bring about more unacceptable conditions wherever politics is allowed to enter.

The new movement is based on experience of Great Britain growing out of the war, where Lloyd George created the Whitley commission to mobilize the labor power of the nation, and reports made by that commission are known as the Whitley Councils system.

Under this system of voluntary, continuous mediation, conditions in any industry or group of industries never reach the strike crisis, although the Whitley Councils do not ask labor to give up a weapon that has been the main reliance to compel recognition in the past.

Twenty-one of the largest groups of industries in England have gone under Whitley Councils, where in a given industry the employees elect a shop representative by popular vote, the employers select one person to represent them, and each side pays its own man for his full time.

These two arbitrators are continuously on the job, taking up the grievance of any individual, group or wages, hours, sanitary and housing conditions, cost of living, and all questions relating to the industry, and when they agree on what is fair and equitable it binds both sides.

In the event of failing to agree the matter is referred to the district council composed of an equal number of representatives of labor and employers, made up in the same way, having jurisdiction of same matters over the entire group of industries in a given district.

If the district council cannot agree, there is an appeal to a national council, and that is final, but in the meantime the work has not stopped, employees have suffered no loss in wages, and the productive power of the nation has not been lowered by a strike.

Voluntary mediation of labor troubles outside of state and federal political machinery is a modification of the Whitley plan, and is being taken up by conservative elements in organized labor to avert the spread of radicalism, I. W. Wism, Bolshevism and Red control of labor.

It is an American movement relying on substitution of intelligence for strongarm methods, and is the best thought of the American Federation of Labor which basically refuses to recognize political methods and all forms of vicious and anarchistic teachings to get results.

A number of large industries in the west are already organized on the new lines and as soon as one entire state has been placed on the strikeless basis the system will be extended to other states.

When Oklahoma was admitted to statehood, Congress set aside 1,415,000 acres of land and $5,000,000.00 for the benefit of the common schools, and also 1,400,000 acres for state educational institutions. Successive grants and legislative acts subsequently increased the school land endowment to 2,855,480 acres. This land and the $5,000,000.00 originally appropriated by Congress, constitute the basis of Oklahoma's permanent school fund. A large part of the land has been sold and the amount of these sales is estimated at $50,000,000.00. This added to the value of the remaining school lands, bonds and cash on hand, will make the amount of Oklahoma's permanent school fund about $66,000,000.00.

Tishomingo Capital-Democrat: His- proves that Germany has been making periodical attacks upon France at more or less frequent intervals, since long before the birth of Christ. With only one notable exception, she has been licked and forced to recross the River Rhine into German territory, and in each instance has signed a peace, declaring "never again" would Germany start a war against the French nation. In every instance, Germany has lied, and again brought on hostilities against her neighbor. When you remember all this, what confidence can you place in an treaty with the Huns? Nothing but absolute force appeals to Germany, and the man who thinks otherwise is a fool, pure and simple.

Stuart Star: Homer H. Cummins, chairman of the democratic national committee, is quoted as saying that he believes that President Wilson will accept the democratic nomination for president next year if the league of nations should be defeated by the U. S. Senate. It is hoped that circumstances will not so shape themselves as to make it necessary for Mr. Wilson to ask for a third term, but should such an occasion arise the republicans are hereby warned that they had best close their Lodge and migrate to the head waters of Salt River.

GETTING READY FOR DECENNIAL CENSUS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 7.—Uncle Sam is rapidly getting ready to "take stock." To put it, more clearly, preparations are well along for the fourteenth decennial census, to be taken in 1920.

The last Congress granted an appropriation for the work and a force of several hundred clerks is busy in the Census Bureau making the necessary preparations for the huge task, which must be accomplished in a few weeks.

For this immense job, the bureau's regular force of about four hundred employees will be expanded to 85,000 or more. The appropriation which congress has made for the work is $20,500,000. This amount covers also the ordinary expenses of the bureau during 1919.

The census will include not only enumeration of the population of the United States, continental and insular, but also a canvass of the agricultural, manufacturing, mining and quarry, oil and gas and other interests for all the states as well as for the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Guam, Samoa and the Canal Zone.

For the purposes of the enumeration, the country has been divided into 378 supervisory districts, with a supervisor for each, to whom about 25,000 enumerators will report.

Date Is Advanced.
The actual enumeration will be completed in a few weeks, although it will be several months before results will begin to be known. Nevertheless, the figures will be available much earlier for the 1920 census than was the case in 1910, because this time the census will be as of January 1, instead of April 15, as in 1910. The change was made because it is believed the agricultural census will be more reliable on the earlier date.

Chief interest in the census, of course, will be in the population, but a great many interests require much more detailed information, such as the ratio of males and females, distribution, degree of illiteracy, proportion of foreign born to native population and many other facts that can be learned only through Uncle Sam's decennial "stock taking." The 1920 census is certain to bring out many changes for the past decade has been one of wonderful growth and development.

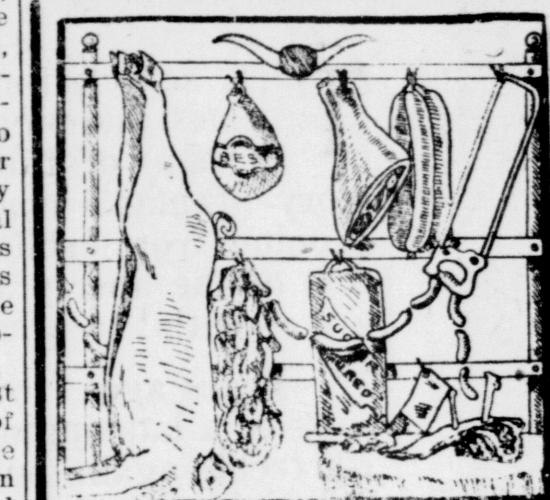

Next to population, the greatest interest will be in the census of agriculture. This will show the number and acreage of farms in the country and in each state and county; the number of acres of improved land; value of farms and the stocks of machinery; number and kind of live stock, and practically every detail of information relating to agriculture.

The census of manufactures is taken every five years, unlike the other inquiries. This will be of unusual interest this time because the last census was taken in 1914, when the world was at peace. Since then the greatest war in history has been fought and America has accomplished an industrial expansion that is unparalleled. This census, therefore, covering the calendar year, 1919, will present a statistical portrayal of the transition of American industries from peace to war and from war back to peace basis.

You are cordially invited to attend the services at this church tomorrow at the following hours:

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m.

Divine services and sermon at 11 a. m.

No evening services.

We are having delightful weather now—let's make the most of it in our attendance while it lasts.

Besides, it may be that in July and August there will be no regular services except perhaps those of the Sunday school. Remember that in the little church every individual counts. The public is always cordially welcome.

First Baptist Church.

One of the most remarkable testimonies that has been heard in a long time to Jesus Christ was given by our nation's chief executive, Woodrow Wilson. The greatest tribute that has been given to simple faith in Christ, in years and years, was given by him a little while ago, as he stood before two thousand of the nation's thoughtful men. "Oh, me, my brothers," the greatly gifted president said, in effect, "long ago I stayed my all on Christ, and I could not go on without Him and His Book, and I would not be willing to try." The wisest and keenest and the strongest of earth have tried Jesus and they have found out that He helps. And not only the great and strong and intellectual and keen minded have tried Jesus and found Him true, but those modest ones who are near and dear to you and me. A little mother, who prays, never heard of outside of her village or community, maybe, but to you the sweetest and dearest life that earth ever had, tells her child, or the little wife tells her husband, how dear Christ is to those who receive Him as personal Savior.

Why not give your soul a chance by going to church next Sunday? You will find it a delightful place to spend an hour, and it may prove to be a very profitable one for you.

The pastor of the First Baptist Church will preach at 11 o'clock on the subject, "The Christian's Hope," and at night on the subject, "Death at a Banquet," and it is earnestly desired that the same large congregations be present as have been attending.

We are hoping to reach the 500 mark next Sunday in Sunday school and we have reason to believe we will reach it.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon we will administer the ordinance of baptism to at least 23 candidates and perhaps more. If you are a Christian and have never yet followed the Lord in this sacred command, we will be delighted to have you present and do so. The pastor will speak on the subject of baptism at that hour and everybody is cordially invited to come.

The B. Y. P. U. will meet at 7:45 p. m. and all the young people are urged to come and meet with us in this service.

We had present last Sunday about 420, counting those who came late. We want to urge you to be on time next Sunday so that your presence will be counted in the report. We are going to try to have 500 present on time.

Won't you make one? Let every member come Sunday and bring the whole family with you and any neighbors you have who are not already attending somewhere. Let's break all records again.

The Berean class, of which Brother Morris is teacher, and Mr. Ellison president, has purchased a tent fly 20x30 and same has been stretched on the church lawn and the class will meet under it during the summer and fall months.

This will prove a delightful place to meet and they are anxious to have every young man in town who is not already attending Sunday school to come and join with them. It is their plan to have banquets and other social events in the near future. They have an enrollment of 30 members and have set their task at 100 before the end of June.

We take this means of extending the students of the Normal a cordial invitation to come and join our Sunday school while they are in our city. We will do our best to make you feel at home and to make your stay in Ada pleasant.

First Christian Church.

(Second Block, S. Broadway)

The people who do not go to Sunday School on Sunday morning do not realize what they are missing. The Bible is the most important book in the world and its study is the most important study in the world. Its literature, its ideals, its themes, are superb. It reveals the only plan of redemption. It reveals God to man and man to himself. How important, then, it is to become acquainted with this matchless volume. Such acquaintance can be had by attending the Bible School of the First Christian Church. A hearty welcome awaits all who come. The school meets at 9:45.

Morning church worship begins at 11 and continues one hour or very little more. "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go unto the house of the Lord." It is good to meet together in this spiritual way, and receive strength for the weak. The minister will continue his messages on the Book of Hebrews.

The Christian Endeavorers will meet at 7:30. This society is composed of a fine lot of young people. Some of these are students at the Normal and they will be happy to have students from the Normal to come to their Sunday evening meetings. There is no better place for a student to spend Sunday evening than at Christian Endeavor and church worship.

Evening church worship will begin at 8:30. The theme of the sermon will be "The Plan of Salvation—1, God's Part in the Plan."

Boys and girls are especially invited to be present Sunday evening to hear the sermonette the minister always delivers for their benefit. The public is cordially invited to all services.

C. V. DUNN, Minister.

Contractors Heard From.

It was learned at the city commissioners' office this morning that Johnson & Benham, engineers, of Oklahoma City, would be ready to submit their plans to the city of Ada by the end of the month for proposed water main and sewer construction. It will be remembered that a movement was set on foot several days ago to try to promote a bond issue for this much needed improvement, and in order that the city might act intelligently on the matter the engineers were asked to prepare and submit plans and estimates for the work. That they will be ready to submit the plans by the last of June is indication enough that they are busy at the job.

Robber at Atwood.

Last Friday night the store of Ritter & Garrett at Atwood was entered by thieves and a large amount of goods, valued at between six and seven hundred dollars was carried off. About $50 of postage stamps were also taken from the postoffice which is in the same room. Entrance was made at the front door of the store building. It is believed that some men driving a Ford car who passed through Calvin later that night, and also Stuart, were the thieves. One man, a stranger, has been arrested on suspicion and is now in jail. He had been in Atwood the day before and was lounging around the store, but no further information as to the robbers has been secured. It is believed that the same crowd intended to rob the Hundley store at Calvin on the same night, but were frightened away by the city marshal.—Holdenville Democrat.

BEN THOMPSON HOME FROM ARMY SERVICE

Ben Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Thompson, of this city, arrived home from New York yesterday where he was discharged from the army after a year and a half in the service, a year of which was spent in France.

Mr. Thompson was with the 318th Engineers, Company E, Fifth Division. Being for some time last past with the army of occupation he was enabled to see a good deal of Germany and has had many thrilling experiences with the "terrible Hun."

Ben Thompson is well and favorably known in this city and community and has a host of friends here who are glad to know that he has returned from the service safe and sound after all these months of bitter warfare.

He will go back to his old position as traveling salesman for the O. K. Cement Co. out of Oklahoma City, where he will make good just as he did in the army and elsewhere.

Ben was one time carrier for the News when it was a struggling infant, and it is only fitting that we wish him every success possible in civil life and extend to him a hearty welcome back home.

Add to Their Grief.

When Cecil Morton and Barton Wright each paid a fine of $20 and the costs in mayor's court yesterday afternoon, they no doubt realized that they had only added to their grief when they skipped from the chain gang several days ago and made their escape from the officers in charge. They were captured shortly after their escape and the results above mentioned came with a charge of jail breaking.

Judge J. W. Bolen was in Wewoka the first of the week, where he held a term of civil court. Several cases were disposed of. He states that he will try a number of murder cases in the Seminole capital in September.

D. C. Abney, who recently moved to Ada from Stratford, is going into business in Ada. He is opening an office in the rear of the Guaranty State bank, where he will handle real estate, insurance and loans. He will also be the agent in Ada for the Chandler car, and will be vice-president of the Guaranty bank.

It wouldn't be a bad idea to state that Luther Harrison, Roan Sugg, F. C. Sims, Wayne Wadlington and C. C. Morris, took Thursday off and went fishing. C. C. Morris led in the success of the expedition, due probably to the fact that he wasn't afraid to go down into the water after them. Harrison caught four perch hardly large enough to use for bait.

BIG CELEBRATION FOR THE THIRTY SIXTH

O. N. Walker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is just in receipt of a letter from Mr. Dick Carhart, of Oklahoma City, giving the details of the big celebration and ovation which Oklahoma City is planning for the boys of the Thirty-sixth division when they arrive.

The letter is in the form of an invitation to the city of Ada, through its commercial club, to co-operate and take part in the festivities. The letter is as follows:

Chamber of Commerce,
Ada, Okla.
Gentlemen:

The Thirty-sixth Division is on its way home and a tremendous ovation is awaiting the boys at Oklahoma City.

It is the desire of the reception committee to make this a statewide welcome instead of purely an Oklahoma City celebration. It is, therefore, the request of the committee that all cities and large delegations and their city bands, or other organization bands, to represent their city, if possible.

The exact date of the arrival has not yet been wired from the war department, but you will be advised immediately upon receipt of such telegraphic notice.

The following gentlemen have been appointed on a state committee and are meeting at Oklahoma City, Saturday noon, to perfect arrangements for this gigantic reception.

J. J. McGraw, Ponca City.
Jake Hammon, Marlow.
Tom Wade, Ardmore.
Ed Galt, Ardmore.
Everett Hill, Shawnee.
Ed Perry, Tulsa.
David Fink, Muskogee.
Guy Robertson, Lawton.
Mayor Pete Duffy, El Reno.
Clint Strong, Clinton.

It is unnecessary to ask you gentlemen to co-operate to the fullest extent to welcome our Fighting Heroes back from the front lines. We hope that all the citizens in your city will turn out en masse.

Very truly yours,
36TH DIVISION RECEPTION COMMITTEE.
DICK CARHART, Chairman.

Our Celebrated Seminoles Heroes

Of the two million soldiers who saw service with the American Expeditionary Forces overseas, seventy have received the Congressional medal of honor for bravery in action, of the seventy so honored, three are from Oklahoma, and of the three Oklahomans to win this high recognition two are from F Company of the 142nd Infantry of the Thirty-sixth division. It is a remarkable testimonial to the heroism of this Seminole County company that it has won a thirty-fifth of all the medals thus far voted by congress to the entire American Army.

Lieut. Harold L. Turner of Seminole and Serg. Samuel H. Sampler of Mangum are the two lads from F Company who were honored by congress. In the fight at St. Etienne on October 8, F Company received fearful punishment. The commissioned officers were casualties, and it was left to the non-coms to carry on. Turner and Sampler organized their platoon under machine gun fire and lead it on to victory. Turner alone took fifty prisoners, while Sampler, who was a private, captured twenty-eight. At the end of the first day's battle they were the only two men of their platoon left on their feet, the rest being killed or wounded. When Major General Smith heard of their conduct he made Turner a lieutenant and Sampler a sergeant and recommended that they be given a congressional medal of honor.

Another member of this company to distinguish himself and win the Croix de Guerre from the French government was Sergeant Howard Woods of Wewoka. After his superior officers had been shot down, Woods reorganized his platoon, and although he had been dangerously wounded, he remained at the head of his men through the long battle. Blood poison afterwards developed and he was in the base hospital for several months. Captain Willis G. Pierce of Ardmore, who commanded F Company at St. Etienne, was killed in the battle by shell fire after being wounded twice by machine gun bullets. His widow has received a Croix de Guerre awarded by the French to Captain Pierce after his death. The first officer of F Company killed at St. Etienne was Lieutenant Richard Harrison of Wewoka, a brother of Luther Harrison of Ada.

Sergeant Adam Peters of Ada was among the F Company men killed in the October battle. His widow now lives near Ada. It is said that of the 172 men of the company who went into the battle only thirty-nine escaped injury.

RECITAL.
Prof. G. C. Morris will give a lecture-demonstration-recital in the parlors of the First Methodist church, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Pontotoc County Schools to Give Big Program Here

Superintendent of Pontotoc County Schools, Mr. A. Floyd, has handed the News a copy of the commencement program of the eighth grade class of 1919, of all the schools of the county, to be held at the Methodist Church in Ada, Saturday afternoon, June 21, at 1:30.

Address—Hon. Luther Harrison.
Presenting Diplomas—A. Floyd,
County Superintendent.

Mr. Floyd is very optimistic over the school situation in this county and compliments the students of the county very highly on the character of their work during the past year, laying much stress on the necessity of more active co-operation on the part of the patrons of the school. In commenting on this phase of the work Mr. Floyd said:

"In checking up the record by grades I find that we have 30 percent of the enrollment in the first grade, 13 percent in the second, 13 percent in the third, 13 percent in fourth, 11 percent in fifth, 9 percent in sixth, 6 percent in seventh and 5 percent in eighth, 3-5 of this number or 2 percent of the entire enrollment of the schools took the state examination and passed to the high school.

"It is noticeable that the eighth grade is comparatively small as compared with the lower grades. I might add further, if you take the number of those who took the examination in the towns where they have a strong affiliated High School away from the strictly Rural School, the per cent is much smaller in the rural school than given above. This decrease is very noticeable in districts where the equipment is poor, and the teachers inadequately prepared for rural school work, coupled together with no co-operation and inspiration given by the patrons and citizens of the community to the school work.

"My desire is, that the school boards and patrons of the various districts investigate and study the conditions of your schools with the view of assisting and making them better, and that you may aid in keeping the boys and girls in school longer. Every school in the county should have quite a number of eighth grade graduates each year. The schools are not fulfilling their function if they do not. Who is to blame? Is it the children? I dare say it is not. It is you, the citizens and patrons of the schools to a very large extent.

"With all of the hindrances of the past year, we have reasons for congratulations. We have 149, who have completed the eighth grade work and will receive their diplomas on the 21st day of June. They have done their work well and the number passed ranks above the average of the different counties of the state. This speaks well for the schools. Let us continue to boost the schools and make our county the banner county of the state.

"Thanking the patrons, teachers and pupils for the interest and efforts put forth to make the schools, the Associations, the field meet, etc., a success, and inviting all to attend the program given by the eighth grade class, I am
Yours sincerely,
"A. FLOYD,
County Superintendent."

WALKER D. HINES SUED FOR $15,000

Charles E. Shuman, through his attorneys, King & Crawford, has filed suit in the district court of Ada against the Frisco railroad, Walker D. Hines director, for $15,000 damages which he claims he received April 26th of this year.

Shuman sets out in his petition that he was working as a member of a construction gang near Woodville in Murray county when the accident occurred. He was in charge of four Mexicans who were cutting old bolts from the rails with sledge hammers. Through what he says was negligence on the part of one of the Mexicans, a tap from one of the bolts struck him in the stomach, injuring him internally and making a cripple of him for life. He thus seeks damages in the sum named.

The case will come up at the next regular term of court.

JUNE 16 IS LAST DAY TO PAY COUNTY TAXES

State and county taxes become due one day later than usual this year, the last day of payment, June 15, falling on Sunday, the collectors thus agreeing to extend the day to Monday the 16th. The taxable values for this county in 1918 were not approximately 14½ million dollars. The tax assessor, Nick Heat, announces there will be an increase of at least a million dollars for this year, but the figures are not complete as yet.

County Treasurer Lee Daggs tells the News today that about $2,000 a day are coming into his office now, from thirty to fifty people from different parts of the county coming in. And still this amount must be greatly increased if the tax penalty is escaped. The penalty is 18 per cent. The taxes being paid now are for the last half of the year 1918.

40 Winters, 40 Summers—Since Then Have Rolled Away

Forty winters and forty summers have rolled away since persons who are living and well today first took the prescription for "Number 40 For The Blood." "Number 40" is compounded from ingredients that are set down in the U. S. Dispensatory and other authoritative medical books as follows: "Employed in diseases of the glandular system, in blood poison, mercurial and lead poisoning, scrofula, rheumatism, catarrh, constipation, liver and stomach diseases. Under its use, sores, ulcers, nodes, tumors and scrofulous swellings that have withstood all other treatments disappear as if by magic."

No. 40 is sold by Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

Japan May Stand Alone.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, June 7.—T. Nakahashi, minister of education, recently pointed out in a speech at a political meeting that Japan may be left in an isolated position with relation to the great powers. He said: "Russia and Germany are now ruined and there are only three great powers in the west—Great Britain, France and America. These three powers can easily get together because their language and strength are about the same, but Japan being of a different race may have to stand absolutely alone."

"Japan, therefore, must provide against this by regulating her finance and strengthening her national defense."

Unveiling at Stratford.

The W. O. W. and Woodmen Circle will hold their unveiling jointly this year on the third Sunday in June, which is on Sunday, June 15th. Every member of both orders are requested to be present.—Stratford Leader.

THERE IS A WORLD OF INTEREST IN READING ADVERTISEMENTS

Your daily newspaper is far brighter and more interesting for the advertisements it contains. You get information from them. You learn all about many little things that are of so much personal importance in your life. They keep you posted. They tell you what is new and desirable.

Sometimes they keep you from making an unwise purchase by pointing out just the reasons why one article suits your needs better than another.

Reading advertisements helps you to economize. You know that economy is not alone a matter of saving money but of spending money to advantage. Advertising identifies goods of unquestioned value.

When a store or manufacturer puts a name on goods and tells you about them you may be sure they are worth while because it does not pay to advertise merchandise that is not good.

Make a practice of reading advertisements. Read them as news from the business world published for your benefit. They will help you to live better and dress better and make more of your income in every way.

RED CROSS WORK WILL NOT SLACKEN

The work of the American Red Cross will not slacken until the misery caused by war has been overcome, according to a statement issued by Dr. Livingston Farrand, new head of the organization. While the Red Cross of each nation has its part to play in the new work, said Dr. Farrand, a large proportion of the relief must be undertaken by the American Organization, which has been undergoing since the armistice, a reorganization to render it as effective for the future as it was during the fighting period.

According to Dr. Farrand the situation abroad is more serious than might have been expected. It is so grave that it has struck pity even to the hearts of men whose business is the alleviation of want and suffering. At some, there is an immense organization of 19,000,000 grown-ups and 9,000,000 children, ready to be used both as machinery for disseminating facts about public health and for aiding the stricken abroad.

"When the armistice was signed the principal activity of the Red Cross was in France," said Dr. Farrand, "but it had large commissions also in Italy, Belgium, Great Britain and the Balkans; smaller commissions already had begun work in the Balkans, in Poland, and at Archangel, in Siberia. Immediately after the signing of the armistice plans were undertaken to put the work of the society on a peace basis."

"Our work with the soldiers and sailors is a matter of course, and will be continued abroad and at home as long as there are any soldiers being demobilized or occupying zones in Europe. But as the soldiers are demobilized, and as patients are evacuated from the hospitals in Europe, our work of that character is rapidly dwindling. We have a personnel in Europe now of between 6,000 and 7,000 and I wouldn't be surprised if it were cut in half within the next six months."

"The most interesting and touching situation now confronting America and the American Red Cross is that in the Balkans and Eastern Europe. The diseases which are likely to spring up among a people ill-nourished and with poor sanitary surroundings are beginning to ravage Eastern and Southeastern Europe. Typhus fever is spreading at an alarming rate."

"This affords a present emergency with which the Red Cross must cope. It is the plan of the society to go to the people next Autumn and ask for additional funds to carry on the work. To make the present supply of money do until then will require the closest kind of figuring."

Dr. Farrand emphasized the fact that the Red Cross co-operates with the American Relief Association, headed by Herbert C. Hoover, wherever it is possible. The Red Cross, however, does not attempt to feed populations which are in want. The Hoover commission will go out of existence on July 1, and after that there will probably be an even greater call on the services of the society.

"At home we expect to use our membership of 19,000,000 as machinery for the protection of the public health," concluded Dr. Farrand. "The maintenance of community health is largely a matter of education, and it is our purpose to spread abroad a better knowledge of how to keep well. It has been decided to continue the Junior Red Cross, with its 9,000,000 members and to encourage them to help the children of Europe, the orphans of France and of Belgium, to obtain an education and to fit themselves for life work."

WAR NURSES TO RECEIVE $60 BONUS ON DISCHARGE

Nurses who have been discharged from the service of the United States will receive the $60 discharge bonus being given soldiers, sailors and marines, according to announcement by the federal government. Those who are discharged hereafter will receive this bonus on the same roll or voucher upon which they are given their final pay.

Section 1406 of the Revenue Act, approved February 24, 1919, authorizes the payment of a bonus of $60 to officers, soldiers, field clerks and nurses of the Army upon honorable discharge, resignation or otherwise. This bonus is not payable to the heirs or representatives of any deceased soldier.

Nurses who have been discharged and have received their final pay without the $60 bonus, should make application to the Zone Finance Officer, Lemon Building, Washington, D. C., enclosing their discharge certificate or military orders for discharge, or both, if both were issued. Nurses are advised to secure attested copies of discharge certificates before forwarding them.

For further information regarding this, apply to the local Red Cross Chapter or the Division Department of Nursing Service.

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work."

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today. NC-13

FRIENDS AND PATRONS:

The statements I have made show you that some of my troubles result from the demand of ice delivery in such small quantities, that the price we get does not pay for the service—you want your ice delivered by noon, which means that we must have enough delivery outfits to cover the entire city in the forenoon, thus doubling the quantity that would be needed if the deliveries were distributed throughout the day, and doubling the cost of service.

The Government Food Administration, after investigating these matters, recommended the elimination of number of wasteful methods in order to avoid the necessity of increasing the price of ice, especially to working people and small consumers. These recommendations will work to your benefit, and among them are these:

That ice be distributed upon coupons to all customers as nearly as possible.

That a large part of the small sales be made from local ice boxes, or at the wagon instead of attempting delivery into houses.

These rules enable them to maintain service, and give good values, and benefits the customer, and are based upon years of experience of the people in the industry.

Also, special deliveries to residences which cost always more than the amount realized from the sale are entirely discontinued except in case of sickness.

This is the help we ask of you now: namely, BUY COUPONS, and for minimum quantities of 25 pounds—as much more as you can afford.

Hot Prices vs. Cold Cash

By buying in huge quantities this store is enabled to put most reasonable prices on Groceries. Considering the quality of goods we sell, there are few grocers, if any, who can make such attractive prices as this store.

The service at Stanfield's, however, is even more attractive than the price. A dozen salesmen are at your command at any hour of the day, and we accord our customers the same courtesy we would extend them if they were guests in our home.

The Lions Astir.

To improve the golden moment of opportunity and catch the good that is within our reach, is the great art of life.—Johnson.

The weakling found a stumbling block.
And gave up with a groan.
The strong man came along and said:
"Behold, a stepping-stone."

Little Tommy: "Do your folks ever have family prayers before breakfast?"

Little Willie: "No; we only have prayers before we go to bed. We ain't afraid in the daytime."

"What's de matter wid Jimmy?"
"Aw, he feels disgraced for life. His mudder come out yesterday and took him home right off second base."

The Lions continue to roar. The secretary informs us that all things are ready for the feast Monday night, honoring the visiting faculty members of the summer normal school. An informal reception will be held in the parlors of the Harris at eight o'clock—the banquet and program at eight-thirty. Invitations and complimentary tickets have been sent to all the visiting faculty members of the normal school.

President Arthur Lee Odell of Henry-Kendall College will be here with "Meat for the Lions." Judge I. M. King will deliver the welcome address, to which W. L. Courtney will respond. Prof. J. E. Hickman will toast "The New Doctor." Music will be furnished by Schrieber's orchestra and Robt. Wimblish will officiate as toastmaster.

An uproarious evening is predicted.

PUPILS OF MISS BARROW PRESENTED

Miss Bees Barrow presented her pupils in expression and dancing in the first of two recitals at the Normal auditorium last night. The second and recital will be given at the Christian church Monday night.

The program at the Normal last night consisted of three dances and a one-act play entitled, "The Trouble at Satterlee's." Every part of the program was very enjoyable due partly to the fact that the art of dancing has not been taught before in Ada and partly to the fact that the different parts were so well learned. Too much cannot be said in praise of Miss Barrow for the development she has wrought in the art of expression and dancing among the children of Ada. Miss Mildred Miller at the piano played the accompaniment for the dances.

The first dance of the evening was an Irish folk dance. It was given by eight small girls and one boy. The children were dressed in the styles of Irish peasant children with green skirts and waists to match. These children were from 6 to 8 years old and performed with the ease and grace of professions. The children in this dance were little Misses Jessie Lee Woods, Catherine House, Wilhelmita Reith, Calista Timberlake, Margaret Parker, Josephine Parker, Jean and Mildred Seales and Master M. D. Timberlake.

The second dance was a duet entitled "Tangled Roses," which was done by Misses Martha Louise Allen and Ethel James Byrd. These little tots were very prettily dressed with wreaths of roses about their heads and bodies.

The third dance was by eight girls about the age of 16 years. It was called the "Dance of the Raindrops." The young ladies were very beautifully dressed in maline frocks of yellow, red, blue and green. In this dance were Misses Mozelle Hunter, Faye Knotts, Elizabeth Cain, Frances Tunnell, Sarah Tunnell, Viola Harden, Maria Cruz, and Pauline Knotts.

The last number on the program was a school play in one act, entitled "The Trouble at Satterlee's." This play was produced by six girls, Misses Sarah Tunnell, Dolly Gay, Louise Halsell, Faye Knotts, Nadine Roddie and Frances Case. Miss Barrow played the part of Miss Satterlee, due to the fact that the young lady who was to take the part was called out of the city yesterday afternoon. The leading roles in the play were taken by Misses Sarah Tunnell, Dolly Gay and Miss Louise Halsell, who took the part of the maid. The acting of these three young ladies was superb.

The recital for Monday night at the Christian church will consist of readings only. This will close Miss Barrow's season at Ada after which she will visit her relatives in Arkansas.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES

LIBERTY.

Gardiner's Musical Revue will give their final program this evening. The picture program presents Marie Walcamp in the drama, the Red Glove. The Screen Magazine gives a resume of a week's important events, and the program will be completed with the L-KO comedy, Frisky Lions and Wicked Husbands.

AMERICAN.

Mary Miles Minter is presented in the comedy drama, The Intrusion of Isabella. It is a story in five reels and very interesting. Coming Tuesday: Harry Carey in Bare Fists.
